Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

Something over three years ago when Jehovah's Witnesses and their antics began to give the American Legion and school boards throughout the country a pain in the neck, the Baltimore Sun printed the following editorial:

"Any statute requiring that the flag be saluted by school children is an insult to the Stars and Stripes and ought to be resented by all patriots. Is our national ensign a swastika flag, to be respected by forced salutes? Since when has the Star-Spangled Banner so lost the respect of the people over whom it flies that laws are necessary to make them pretend to honor it? What a disgraceful thing it is to assume that the flag would not be saluted if people were not afraid to refuse the tribute of respect! It is supposed to float because the people have raised it of their own free will and uphold it out of preference — not because they fear it, but because they love it. If the time has come when they must be compelled to pay it a formal and forced tribute, then the time has come to haul it down and raise some red or black banner of dictatorship and fear."

While this writer subscribes to the above opinion, we will go a step further and from a practical standpoint point out, that by expelling a child from school for refusing to salute the flag, we are punishing the child for the parent's fault. The fanatic parent has ordered his child to refuse the flag salute. The child obeys the parent before he obeys the school law. The parent is the one who should be punished. It seems a monstrous penalty to deprive a child of an opportunity to gain an education, because his bird-brained parent commands him not to salute the flag. The entire proceeding is repugnant to the principles of government for which our flag stands. We suspect that if ever a case of this kind reaches the Supreme Court of the United States, it will speedily be declared unconstitutional. Several lower courts have found the law unconstitutional. Others have upheld the law, including the State Supreme Courts of California and of New York, and have accorded school boards the right to expel children who refuse the salute.

What are school boards to do, while waiting for a final ruling of the Supreme Court on this perplexing question? For one thing, we would seek, in enforcing this law, to find a penalty which would not mean loss of education. Special instruction in what the flag stands for and deprivation of some of the privileges accorded other students might in time lead the child to respect the flag and willingly to salute it.

We might point out that Quakers occupy a special status under our laws. As witnesses in court they are not required to take an oath, because of their conscientious objections as a sect to taking oaths. They may make an affirmation of the truth intsead. We have accomodated this religious sect in our laws. There should be some method of accomodating children whose parents have instilled in them religious reasons for refusing the flag salute.

Much as we deplore the crass stupidity of the plea of Jehovah's Witnesses, that saluting their country's flag constitutes an act of idolatry, the regilious angle of this vexed question does need examining. The Constitution of the United States provides among other things for the freedom of religion, any kind of religion that does not, say, constitute a public nuisance. Holy Rollers may not, in the exercise of their religious rites and rights, keep an entire community awake all nigmt. But the question arises whether this refusal to salute the flag on the part of Jehovah's Witnesses is not essentially an exercise of their rights under the Constitutional guarantee of religious liberty. And whether a compulsory law compelling such salute is not an abridgement of that constitutional right

At any rate, reverting to the Baltimore Sun editorial on the subject, it seems very certain to the mind of this writer, that a compulsory flag salute is an empty gesture. Respect and reverence for the flag must arise from a heartfelt conviction that the flag is the high and beautiful symbol of all our liberties, of our national ideals of liberty and justice, and of the rich heritage that is ours because of the blood which our fathers have shed to realize those ideals. Unless we carry the beauty of that symbol in our hearts, and are able to establish it in the hearts of our children, flag saluting laws will not create it.

California Gold Output, 45,304,000, Highest Since 1862

Gold produced in California during 1938 exceeded that for any year since 1862 and its value exceeded that for any year since 1859, according to prelimnary figures by the San Francisco office of the U. S. Bureau of Mines.

Production of silver, copper, lead, and zinc (in terms of recoverable metals) was smaller in both quantity and value than in 1937. Preliminary figures estimate gold production in 1838 as 1,284,400 fine ounces, silver 2,755,000 fine ounces, copper 2,210,000 pounds, lead 1,000,000 pounds, and zinc 20,000 pounds—valued in all at $47,349,570. These figures compare with a production in 1937 of 1,174,578 ounces of gold, 2,888,265 ounces of silver, 10,502,000 pounds of copper, 2,372,000 pounds of lead, and 40,000 pounds of zinc—valued in all at $44,757,593.

Gross value of California production was gold, $45,304,000; silver $1,781,010; copper $216,580; lead $47,000; and zinc $980. Production in 1937 was gold $41,110,230; silver $2,234,073; copper $1,270,742; lead $139,948; and zinc $2,600. Total value of the five metals in 1938 increased 6 per cent compared with 1937 for a moderate increase in California's enormous gold production more than counterbalances declines in the values of the production of the other four metals.

California was again the leading gold producing state; its production five times that in 1929, when the state total was only $8,526,703. Expanded output at working mines, reopening of former producing mines, and bringing into production of prospects and new discoveries, together with the higher price of gold beginning in 1933 have all been factors in bringing about this tremendous expansion of the industry.

NEVADA COUNTY

The Grass Valley-Nevada City district continued to be the center of the gold producing indutry. Empire Star Mines Co., Ltd. (operating the Empire, Pennsylvania, North Star, and Murchie mines in the Grass Valley Nevada City district in Nevada County, the Zeibright mine near Emigrant Gap, also in Nevada County, and the Pennsylvania mine at Browns Valley in Yuba County), was again the state's premier gold producer.

Idaho Maryland Mines Corporation (working Idaho Maryland and the Brunswick properties in Grass Valley-Nevada City district as well as its properties in Forbestown district of Butte county) was again the second largest contributor to California's gold production; toward the end of the year operations at company's Forbestown unit were suspended.

Large outputs were also reported by Lava Cap Gold Mining Corporation from its Lava Cap, Banner and Central properties and at Golden Center mine operated by Cooley Butler, all in Grass Valley-Nevada City district. Nearby in Washington district, Nevada County, the leading producer was Bradley Mining Co. working the Spanish mine.

The deep mines of the mother lode in El Dorado, Amador, Callaveras, Tuolumne and Mariposa Counties were important contributors to gold output.

In Amador County, Central Eureka Mining Co. expanded its production considerably; Argonaut and Kennedy mines continued as leading producers.

To the north in El Dorado county, Big Canyon mine of the Mountain Copper Co., Ltd. was the leading producer and Black Oak mine at Garden Valley and Beebe mine at Georgetown had substantial outputs.

On the mother lode in Calaveras county, the largest producer of gold was Carson Hill Gold Mining Corp. at Melones; this company treated a large tonnage of low grade ore.

Still farther south along the Mother Lode in Tuolumne and Mariposa counties a number of smaller producers was outstanding.

KERN COUNTY

In Kern county, the output of the Mojave district, almost dormant five years ago, was large; Golden Queen Mining Co., Burton Bros. ,Inc., Cactus Mining Co., and Lodester Mining Co. were the outstanding producers, although a number of other properties reported favorable developments. Also in Kern county, in the Randsburg district, Anglo-American Mining Corporation was successfully mining a large tonnage of very low-grade gold ore.

In Sierra county, Original Sixteen-to-One mine in Alleghany district was the largest producer.

In Inyo county, production from Cardinal Gold Mining Co. was much smaller than in former years and late in the year the company's mine was shut down, due to exhaustion of known ore bodies.

In Shasta county, Iron Mountain unit of the Mountain Copper Co., Ltd., was the only first rank lode mine.

In Plumas county, Walker Mining Co. produced a substantial quantity of gold as a byproduct of its copper ore after large-scale operations were resumed late in the year.

ROTARY ANNS SHOW HUSBANDS HOW TO BEHAVE

The Rotary club met last evening in the Methodist church. It was ladies night, and the Rotary Anns took over both the dinner and the program with vigor and vim. The dinner was constantly interrupted by the appearance of a Western Union messenger boy ith telegrams to the members usually of a disparging or comic character. Hal Draper appeared as the messenger in a bona fide Western Union uniform which had been shipped up to Nevada City from the manager of the San Francisco office of W. U. as a special courtesy to Rotary. Draper fulfilled all expectations in his role, and added some improvisations of his own.

Mrs. H. E. Kjorlie, was program chairman. Co-chairman of the dinner were Mrs. Clyde Gwin and Mrs. Harley M. Leete. Special events, as it turned out, under Mrs. Kjorlie's chairmanship were very special indeed.

About sixty Rotarians, their wives and women folk, some of them from Grass Valley, attended the splendid home cooked dinner.

LAVA CAP MINE

The sinking program which has been in progress several months at the Central shaft of the Lava Cap mine, was completed a week ago. The shaft is now down 2,200 feet. Crews are cross cutting to the vein on the 11th and 12th levels. The company is treating 315 tons of ore per day. The recent storm brought a three and a half foot snow fall but no damage occurred. The big caterpillar of the company kept the road clear of snow. Otto E. Schiffner is superintendent.

Fire Chief S. W. Williamson states that the Nevada City fire department will test out box 55 at the corner of Nile and Adams streets at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon.

NARROWS DAM EMPLOYS 61 MEN OF NEV. COUNTY

In a recent survey of employment at the Narrows Dam site it was found there were 61 men from the WPA office in Grass Valley and three more men were added Wednesday. Under the classification of skilled laborers in the last few days twelve were chosen from the relief rolls and 29 were not. In the unskilled class 16 laorers were taken from the WPA rolls and four were not. It is estimated that at peak employment when the dam is well under construction, there will be only about 175 men.

TWO BUSY SMALL BOYS RAID NINE STORES IN G. V.

Two small boys, 12 and 13 years old, brothers, in the Grass Valley city jail after being arrested Wednesday in the creek bed in the rear of residences on Hills Flat by two Grass Valley officers. The boys have confessed to over 50 robberies and are proving a problem to city and county officers.

They were picked up about a week ago for a series of robberies and have been held in the Nevada City jail until last Tuesday when after severe reprimands they were returned to their home on Gold Flat and and given a "chance." When requested to bring in some kindling wood that evening the boys ran away, and started on a series of robberies and burglaries.

The two boys, small for their ages, have committed many acts of thievery, according to their confessions, in Nevada City and Grass Valley and have been given every opportunity to behave by both city and county officials. These boys took the bicycle of Keith Marsh on Prospect Hill twice. He got it back again each time.

They jimmied locks, ripped transom screens off or kicked in windows Tuesday evening and night to enter the Partridge Garage, Bundys Shoe repair shop, Diamond Match Company, Clarence Grenfells office, George Brothers Garage, Hills Flat Lumber Company, Al Butz garage, Larry Dunne's and the Kilpatrick grocery store. The pair collected $39.98 from the Partridge Garage and secured a loaded revolver from Bundy's. The older boy had the revolver strapped about his waist when arrested.

CANON OF SACRAMENTO CATHEDRAL TO PREACH

Trinity Episcopal church will have special services on Sunday evening, February 19, or on Quinquagesima Sunday, the Sunday before Lent, with Rev. W. H. Hermitage, Canon of Christ Church Cathedral of Sacramento as the speaker. He comes with a fine message for all and every one is urged to attend and hear this sermon.

Last Sunday, the Trinity Episcopal church Sunday school honored the birthday of Lincoln with services and special music. At the end of the Sunday school hour the 64 present were given Valentines by Miss Elma Hecker, superintendent. Next Sunday being the Sunday before Lent, Miss Hecker will distribute the mite boxes to the children. These boxes are used during the Lenten season for coins placed in the same by denial of something and returned to the Sunday school on Easter Sunday. Last year the Lenten offering from the mite boxes amounted to $49 and this work on the part of the children assisted the vestry to meet their quota for the year.

BLACK BEAR

A small crew is working in the Black Bear mine on Deer Creek several miles west of Nevada City. This is a quartz property and a long tunnel has been driven to open up the property and determine values in the ore. It is owned by the Cooley Butler interests of Los Angeles.

Monthly Payroll Of Nevada County Mines Now Totals $367,650

Owing to the closing of some of the smaller quartz mines due to heavy snow and other reasons the survey of mining employment for the month shows a considerable decrease under that reported for the middle of January. Total number of miners employed, according to reports received yesterday, is 2,451 and the payroll amounts to $367,650.

The Spanish mine has reduced its working force by approximately 30 men, and there have been some reductions in the crews of other large operators.

Reports indicate that work will shortly be resumed among the Willow Valley mines, in which earlier operations reveal good values, but which were not worked below the 300 or 400 foot levels.

Zeibright mine is forging ahead with a 23,000 monthly tonnage through the mill which places at the top or near the top for the county. The mill handles 800 tons a day or a little better. The ore is low grade but is found in immense ledges.

The following reports have been received from various mines:

ZEIBRIGHT MINE

The Zeibright mine, in Bear Valley operated by the Newmont interests and one of the youngest in the district, has forged ahead to become the largest producer of ore tonnage in the county. Ore is mined at the rate of six tons per day per man making a monthly output of 23.000 tons of ore per month of low grade ore. The wide veins run northerly and southerly. Active work is being done on the 300 and 550 levels. Robert Hendricks is in charge of operations.

DAKIN DREDGING COMPANY

The Dakin Dredging company has moved their boat and equipment beyond the Lime Kiln ranch south of Grass Valley and work is progressing satisfactorily on ground the company has under lease. A crew is also testing gravel along Deer Creek west of Nevada City on the old Champion mine ground. Robert McAfee is in charge of operations.

LAVA CAP PRESIDENT HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Jockmus of Connecticut are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schiffner. They motored across continent by the southern route. Mr. Jockmus is president of the Lava Cap Gold Mining corporation. After visiting here they will go to San Francisco and view the Golden Gate International exposition.

MINE MORATORIUM LEGISLATION PENDING

Legislation pertaining to the mine moratorium has been introduced into the Senate at Washington by Senator Murray of Montana. He demands prompt action. If enacted it will continue the present policy of exemption for claim holders. Only individuals exempt from paying income tax for the 1938 taxable year would be eligible for relief under the legislation. It would apply to no more than six lode mining claims held by the same person, or to not more than twelve by the same partnership, association or corporation. It also applies to no more than six placer mining claims not to exceed 120 acres, or not more than twelve such claims which do not exceed 240 acres held by the same partnership, association or corporation. Persons entitled to avail themselves of this moratorium would have to file notice of desire to hold their claims by noon, July first.

FIGHT PROMOTER MUST ANSWER TO THEFT CHARGE

Harry Patton, also known as Danny Matthews, local fight promoter, had his preliminary hearing in the justice court yesterday and was bound over to the superior court. Between 50 and 60 witnesses were called on to testify. This is probably the largest list ever to testify in a Nevada county court. Matthews is charged with grand theft.

He has been charged by the American Legion officials with appropriating funds he collected to promote boxing bouts in the district to his own use. He collected the money from local business men and individuals. It is claimed he collected over $450 and could give no accounting of the money although he had no authority to spend any of the funds he collected.

CHAMBER MEETS AT LUNCH TODAY

The Nevada City Chamber of Commerce will hold a luncheon meeting today at the National Hotel. Directors, members, and citizens who are not members are cordially invited by President Fred E. Connor to attend.

The luncheon will be a la carte. Members are asked to bring ideas for welcoming the thousands who are expected to visit Nevada County during the Golden Gate Exposition that opens tomorrow.

GREYSTONE PROPERTY

W. Cardinal of Portland, Oregon, registered at the National Hotel in Nevada City Saturday. It is reported he is the backer of the interests that have taken the Greystone mining ground above Washington, under option. Work will start as soon as spring weather permits or roads are open to the property, there being several feet of snow there now. A tunnel on the property is in between 700 and 800 feet and it is stated it will be driven further to contact ore bodies. The property is a quarter mile above the Spanish mine.

Two men are working in the old Osceola property in the Rough and Ready district prospecting to determine ore values.

J. M. Hoff, who has an option on the Gracey mine southeast of Nevada City, was moved from Jones Memorial Hospital in Grass Valley to his home in Nevada City Tuesday. He is still confined to his bed recovering from the severe hemorrhage suffered last Tuesday.

Who Owns A Company?

A typical American company recently set about finding out who its owners are. It had known, of course, that the company president was no more the sole owner than is the President of the United States the sole owner of the country he administers. The company learned it is owned by average citizens, living average lives, investing their money in average companies because they have faith in American industry and the American plan of producing wages and dividends from honest work and honest products.

Many persons might be called indirect shartholders. They enjoy returns without actually owning stock of the company. It comes about, for example, through their having insurance policies on their lives, or homes, or places of business issued by insurance companies that are part owners through shareholdings in the average company. Such investments of paid insurance premiums safeguard the ultimate payment of an insurance policy. Thus each policy holder benefits indirectly by the advance of the companies in which the insurance company has its investments. The same is true of those holding shares in investment trusts. Likewise, this may be said of those using the facilities of universities, hospitals, and clinical foundatios. These institutions keep going on the earnings of their endowments, realized from holdings in stocks of average American companies. Partnerships in estates are another example.

A breakdown of stockholders of this average company showed that 4,300 of them are men. Some are wealthy. More are not. Then, there are 4,084 women—mothers, wives, sisters, daughters, sweethearts, widows, women who are in business for themselves, teachers, secretaries, clerks, office managers, doctors.

Thus an average American company is owned mostly by ordinary citizens engaged in the regular pursuits of life. But as the result of the ownership being shared by such institutions as universities, hospitals, and charitable organizations, the benefits are passed on to those of the general public who enjoy their facilities and services. This indirectly shares with non-stockholders the fruits of ownership. The public in this way is better off when the average company progresses.—Contributed.

The Present High Cost Of Debt

Children of today are pointed to by many as those who will have to bear the entire brunt of paying off America's rapidly rising debt at some future time. The national debt is pictured as something for future payment. However, these people are thinking only of the principal of the national debt. They overlook the startingly significant sum that must be paid annually as interest alone on the public debt.

This item of interest has become a major cost of government. In the coming fiscal year, it will exceed by $185,000,000 the cohbined costs of maintaining Congress and the departments of Agriculture, Commerce, Interior, Justice, Labor, Post Office, Treasury, and all other regular Federal activities. The interest figure, from another angle, will be 43 per cent higher than the annual cost of running the government was before the World War.

The cost of $1,050,000,000 in carrying charges in the fiscal year beginning July 1 in proportion to the size of the national income will be 78 per cent greater than in 1929. This amounts to almost one dollar out of every five of total federal tax collections.

All of us thus are paying daily in interest charges on this debt. It is a big and growing part of our daily cost of living. We, today, are paying the interest, whether we realize it or not. Tomorrow, the children of today will have to try to pay principal as well as even a greater amount of interest.—Contributed.

BUBBLE AND SQUEAK

BY ROY GRIFFITHS DEETER

INTERNATIONAL

This may be a bit stale, but at least it is an angle. Quoting from an editorial review of Hitler's recent speech in the London Daily Telegraph and Morning Post of January 31 we note the following remarks: "He (Hitler) said for example, that he believed in a long period of peace he dwelt on the futility of the last war from the point of view of all the belligerents, victors and vanquished, and he went out of his way to reiterate that his colonial demands on England and France would not justify another trial at arms." Taken together these remarks may well seem to portend a reinforcement of the hopes of peace, for if Germany or rather shall we say the "axis" does not want a war certainly no one else has any reason to expect one. This struck us as a very hopeful interpretation, and one we fervently pray may prove correct.

POLITICS

We have a feeling the battle now being waged at Westwood will be a fight to the death. It should clear the air considerably and out of it we'd be willing to bet will come good. This state has long endured unfair labor circuses, but this time it would seem that the temper of the people will no longer tolerate the tactics of such would-be powers behind the throne, as Mrs. Rossiter and the NLR board etc. etc. Pressure will no doubt be brought to bear and perhaps Caliornians can look forward to more peaceful labor unionization in the near future.

LOCAL

Never have we seen a storm clear up as rapidly as on last Sunday afternoon. One moment it was snowing heavily and the next, the sun broke through. Clouds scampered away leaving a veil of rosy mist in their wake. The mist seemed in a hurry too, and as it lifted we beheld tall peaks like immense sugar cones against an azure sky, their snowy slopes touched here and there with the pink fingers of the setting sun. A more beautiful sight would be hard to imagine.

Quite a few car loads of late skiers, hurrying to get out of the deep snow before dark paused along the highway to admire.

ENTERTAINMENT

Two movies to look forward to. G. B. S's "Pygmalion" with Leslie Howard, Wendy Hiller and Marie Lohr heading the cast. This is the first and so far the only full length GBS play to reach the screen. Being a peranual stage favorite it ought to make a good movie. The other, a daffy musical comedy version of "The Three Musketeers" as done by the Ritz Boys. You can imagine what it will be like, or can't you?

AT THE STATE CAPITOL

There are only eight bills thus far before the committees of mines and mining of the two houses of the legislature, but two mining bills having been introduced in the assembly and six in the senate.

The two assembly bills Nos. 2245 and 2250 propose laws which would require the finger printing of all persons who deliver ore, concentrates and amalgam containing five troy ounces or over of gold to any person, firm or corporation in any single day and all persons who deliver ore, concentrates, gold dust, bullion, nuggets or specimens containing five troy ounces or more of gold to any licensed gold buyer in any single day.

Senate Bill No. 33 introduced by Senator Fletcher is an act to add section 533a to the Penal Code relating to mining claims. The bill is as follows:

533a. Every person who shall enter upon and attempt to locate or relocate any mining claim or ground previously located and legally possessed under the mining laws of the United States or the State of California, where discovery and location of a vein, lode, placer or other mineral deposit has been lawfully made, and location notice and proofs of labor regularly filed and recorded, or who files location notice in any County Recorder's office on any mining claim or ground or part thereof, previously so located, possessed and held in good faith under the mining laws by the locator or owner, with intent to dispossess the rightful locator or owner ,or to cloud the title to any such mining claim or ground, or with intent to deceive, cheat, wrong or defraud the previous locator or rightful owner, or who fraudulently attempts to sell or sells or disposes of any such mining claim or ground to any other person, for valuable consideration, or who removes or sells any personal property, building or structure therefrom belonging to any other person, or who obtains any money or property by any such wrongful acts, is guilty of a misdemeanor and is punishable by imprisonment for not more than one year or by fine or not more than one thousand dollars, or both.

Senate Bill No. 220 introduced by Senator Wagy is an act to amend the Public Resources Code relating to the relocation of mining claims. The act as amended would require a "Notice of Relocation" which notice shall be posted and within thirty days after posting the relocator shall record a true copy of the notice in the office of the county recorded in such county as the claim is situated. The notice of relocation shall contain the same information as required for a notice of location under Section 2301 and in addition thereto it shall contain the name of the original lode or claim and the name of the original locator or locators.

Next week we will give a gist of the other four mining bills.

Health Chats

SUPERVISING CHILDREN'S HEALTH

As part of the maternal and child health work to be conducted through Social Security funds in California, the Bureau of Child Hygiene of the state department of public health is providing opportunies for thorough medical examination of young children. This plan of work will be carried on month by month in most rural counties of the state, a doctor supplied by the bureau being on hand at stated intervals to give the health guidance for mothers and the young children.

In such conferences for health supervision, an endeavor will be made to assist the mother in keeping her children well and to discover any physical handicap which may be developing. Arrangements for the correction of any physical defects that may be discovered will rest entirely with the parents of the children. All corrective work is referred to the family physician.

In Nevada City this work is being conducted under the Parent Teachers Association of which Mrs. W. Young is Child Welfare chairman under the direction of Mrs. Hefelfinger.

The staff which the bureau provides will consist of Dr. Emaline Banks, assisted by Mrs. Hefelfinger, Public Health Nurse. The place of meeting is in Nevada City elementary school, on Saturday, February 25, 9-12 a. m.

CUB SCOUTS DISPLAY FINE HANDICRAFT

The splendid display of Cub Scout hand work on display in Dickermans Drug Store windows, is receiving much praise. The Piety Hill and Willow Valley dens of the Cub Pack are composed of boys from nine to eleven years of age. They have made artistic burnt work panels, airplanes, tooled leather, boats, baskets, and pressed leaves in the "home center" program, demonstrating the natural ability of the group of boys. James E. Sowder is cub master and Bert Foreman, committeeman.

SUPPORTER OF NEW DEAL NOW DISILLUSIONED

"Government by headines, that is the regime we are living under today," said A. P. Giannini, founder and chairman of the board of Bank of America, on his return to San Francisco after a trip to Washington to attend, as a voluntary observer, the hearings now being held before the S. E. C.

"I am cured and disillusioned," he added. "A wild scramble for the headlines seems to be the governing passion of those in government today. Every bureau has its propagandist, every department has its myriads of publicity men, hand-outs reign supreme, and when hand-outs don't meet the response expected of them, there are always the "inspired" columnists whose ears are always open for rumor-mongering and who pass the material out as inside dope through syndicated columns misinforming millions throughout the country. I am cured. I am disillusioned.

"I came to Washington expecting to find broad principles of equity and justice dominating the hearing rooms and the great halls of government. In addition to the scramble for fame through the headlines, I found bright young men, fresh from academic halls, completely uninformed of life and experience and the ways of business, dominating important councils. By using the forces of impropaganda they try to compensate for their lack of experience and training. They make of what should be sound and deliberate proceedings springboards for their wisecracks and presentation of points of view. They appear to have no regard for taxpayers' money or for the time and effort of businessmen who come to Washington to deal with the government. Time means nothing to them, nor does money. Witnesses are subpoanaed from three thousand miles away at government expense as if it were completely negligible in effort, time and in money.

"And let me say a word about the commission form of governmental hearing. It is incredible to me that under a democratic form of government in which the distinct and separate character of the judiciary, the egislative and the executive are such basic elements, that in the commission hearings prosecuting attorney, the judge and the witnesses should all be part and parcel of the same unit, employees of the same organization. Such bodies that in addition to these complete contradictions of democracy use the weapon of propaganda to enforce their point of view upon the public I regard as extremely dangerous manifestations and am hopeful that an awakened public opinion will bring the people of the country to a realization of the menace they really are.

"I have said I am disillusioned and cured. I am an idealist in government to this degree, that I recognize how basic and vital it is that every safeguard be provided to eliminate as far as possible the human angles from a rule by men and of men. I recognize the basic importance of abstract principles and laws in the government of men. It is for that reason that I deplore what I note in Washington ,that is an insistence on government by headlines and insistence on the individual ego triumphing over the abstraction, and that is why I am so eager to insure that others should recognize it, too. An awakened public opinion will bring us back to the basics that have made and will continue to make America"

REDS WARNED TO KEEP HANDS OFF AUTO WORKERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Sidney Hillman and Phillip Murray, Vice-Presidents of the Committee for Industrial Organization disclosed today they had recommended that Communists be made to "keep their hands our" of the United Automobile Workers.

They said this recommendation had been given to the Union's Executive Board by the Co-ordinating Committee of the Union and the C. I. O., which consisted of themselves and the two men who now are rival presidents of the Auto Workers—Homer Martin and R. J. Thomas.

In a letter which they explained was designed to give Union members the facts about the present struggle for leadership of the U. A. W., Messrs. Hillman and Murray denounced Mr. Martin as a "man whose ruthless ambition drives him to wreck what he cannot rule."

Noting that Mr. Martin recently had charged that the creation of the Co-ordinating Committee took away the independence of the Union, the CIO officials said the Committee was set up at Mr. Martin's request and that it was completely advisory. Before any recommendation of the Committee could become effective they added, it had to be approved by the U. A. W. Executive Board.

Relating that Mr. Martin had supported a report which the Committee gave the Board, and that the Board had approved the Committee's work unanimously, Messrs. Hillman and Murray wrote:

"In condemning both Communists and 'Lovestone' Communists the Co-ordinating Committee took the side of neither Martin nor anti-Martin political sects. It proposed that both be made to keep their hands out of the U. A. W. That was the policy of the Co-ordinating Committee. That is our policy today."

Expressing amazement that Mr. Martin had recently denounced the Co-ordinating Committee, the letter urged members of the Auto Workers Board to "turn away from the disrupters and the dual-unionists".

"The time for action is not far off," the letter continued. "On Mar. 27 the Auto Workers will hold their convention at Cleveland. There, through their own elected representatives, the membership will make its own decisoons, elect its own officers, and consolidate its organization."

Mr. Martin contends he is the rightful president, however, and has called a rival convention in Detroit for March 4.

CALIF. GOLD

DREDGING

Leading producers of gold from alluvial deposits were almost exclusively dredging operations, chiefly connected-bucket floating dredges but also including companies using dragline type of equipment.

In Sacramento county, Natomas Co., Capital Dredging Co., and Consumnes Gold Dredging Co. were the leading operators.

Yuba Consolidated Gold Fields in Yuba county was one of the state's leading gold producers. In the Snelling dredging area, Merced county, Snelling Gold Dredging Co., Yuba Consolidated Gold Fields, Merced Dredging Co. and S,an Joaquin Mining Co. were the leading producers.

In the northwestern counties, Junction City Mining Co. in Trinity county, Yuba Consolidated Gold Fields near Callahan in Siskiyou county and Yreka Gold Dredging Co. just north of Yreka in Siskiyou county were leading producers.

In addition, a large number of dragline dredges were in operation, notably southwest of Redding in Shasta county, near Oroville in Butte county, around Lincoln in Placer county and on scattered bodies of gravel in the Sierra footholls west of the mother lode.

SILVER

Silver ranked next to gold in value of output. Principal center of silver production was the Mojave district, Kern county, here Cactus Queen Mining Co., Lodestar Mining Co., and Golden Queen Mining Co. were very large producers; all three mines, however, derived their principal revenue from gold.

Other large producers of silver were the Kelly mine in Randsburg district, Kern county, Grisby mine in Calistoga district, Napa county, and Silverado mine in Mt. Patterson district. Mono county, Silverado property was the largest producer in the state in 1937 but during 1938 exhausted its known ore bodies and suspended operations.

Walker Mining Co., in Plumas county, usually a large producer of byproduct silver from its copper ore produced almost nothing until operations were expanded towards a normal rate late in the year.

Most of the remaining silver was recovered as a byproduct of gold mining; some of the large gold producers, such as Lava Cap Gold Mining Corp. and Empire Star Gold Mines Co., Ltd., as well as some of the dredges had substantial yields of silver in addition to their gold.

COPPER

Copper output fell from 10,502,000 pounds of recoverable metal in 1937 to 2,210,000 pounds in 1938. Walker Mining Co., an affiliate of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., although virtually closed down until the last two months of the year, produced most of the state total. For both 1937 and 1938 the output of lead was small and that of zinc negligible.

BANNER MT. POST

An important business meeting of Banner Mt. Post, V. F. W., Auxiliary will be held this evening. The president, Mrs. L. Larrabee, visited the soldiers home in Yountville last month and called on the auxiliarys adopted disabled veteran, Tom Fry, and the Legions veteran, Billie Christie. The post and axuiliary were saddened by the death of Billie Christie which occurred about a week ago. The local local auxiliary will hold election of officers in March.

ROBINS EAGERLY FEED IN DAVE RICHARDS' GARDEN

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Richards were treated to quite a surprise recently when a flock of between 300 and 400 robins settled in their yard and flew up into pyracantha shrubs along the west porch and devoured a heavy crop of brilliant red berries. When automobiles drove along Boulder street or Park avenue the birds rose in a cloud and fairly bent double young birch trees in the yard, when they settled again.

Little Dorothy—"Daddy, a strange man came to see you today."

Father—"Did he have a bill?"

Little Dorothy—"No, daddy. Just an ordinary nose."

Mrs. Jones—"Does your husband often stay out late?"

Mrs. Smith—"Well, to be honest, I don't know. He's usually home when I get in.

"Did you ever catch your husband flirting?"

"That's exactly how I did catch him."

Neighbor—"What do you plan to do, Janie, when you get as big as your mother?"

Janie—"Diet."

BOY SCOUTS TO HOLD RALLY AT ROSEVILLE

The 13th Annual Rally for the scouts of Tahoe Area Council will be held at the Roseville Union High School gym, Saturday March 4 at 7:55 p. m. This year three explorer units will present demonstrations giving a touch of the new senior scout program. With the rally date only three weeks away preparations and rally activities are being accentuated in the troops.

It is expected that ten advanced scouts will receive the coveted rank of Eagle as part of the opening ceremony. Prior to the opening, exhibits of scout handicraft will be displayed in the room below the gym.

CONSERVATION WEEK MARCH 7-14 IN CALIFORNIA

Through the efforts of more sincere conservationists California Conservation Week, March 7-14, will be fittingly observed in every city and county of the state. This was announced today as the long heralded plan of the California Conservation Council headed by Governor Culbert L. Olson and Miss Pearl Chase, Santa Barbara, respectively the honorary chairman and chairman of the fifth annual observance.

County and state-wide officers of the Week say that the observance will awaken even further interest throughout the Nation as a result of conservation exhibits and demonstrations at the Golden Gate International Exposition on San Francisco's Areasure Island, March 7-11.

Announcement of Conservation Week activities for 1939 came today from a group of government officials, educators and leaders of organizations concerned with the conservation and wise utilization of natural resources.

"Our work is to promote conservation education and encourage cooperation in conservation effort," Miss Chase stated at forest service headquarters, one of a score of the agencies and groups actively forwarding the observance. "On its own merits California Conservation Week has grown to the place where almost every important organization and club is cooperating with state and federal departments in a response to the needs of our human and natural resources. Our work has shown good results but we still have a long way to go."

The greater trend toward conservation in recent years is reported to have contributed profits in forest fire prevention, conservation of soils and waters, restoration of wildlife, preservation of wilderness areas, increased recreational use of parks and forests and other worthy projects.

County conservation chairmen and committeemen are now being appointed by the state wide committee to insure full educational observance in all sections of California.

GREENHORN DREDGING COMPANY

The Greenhorn Dredging company have installed their dragline boat on Greenhorn creek above You Bet after six weeks work and it is in operation handling many yards of gravel per day. Mr. Donman is in charge and has about six men employed. It is stated Los Angeles capital is operating the property. The immense gravel deposits have been left there from many old time monitors operations in the early sixties on into the eighties when hydraulic operations were stopped by farming interests in the Sacramento valley The boat is on gravel along Greenhorn where the road from Nevada City crosses the stream and the gravel deposit is over a mile in width. Snipers work along this stream and have made good returns in working with long toms. This gravel is from some of the richest gold producing areas in the county much of it coming from the old Bloomfield channel which was exposed along Greenhorn. The old channel was picked up in the area above the North Bloomfield district and followed southerly into Scotts Flat thence into the You Bet country and again was found at Dutch Flat. The old channel crosses under the town and has been mined under a portion of the little city.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

By JEAN MARTZ

Friday afternoon the girls "A" basketball teams will hold the third game in the tournament. It will take place in the gymnasium, after school. The first two games were very good and as the girls have had more practice the coming one should be even better. In the preceding games Margie Keckler's team has defeated that of Laura Price. The first game was won by the close score of 21 to 25. Because of much sickness at the time of the second game neither term had substitutes and it was rather strenuous for the girls. Margie Keckler's team won by the score of 23 to 3. The girls are wearing their "pinnies", which are slip-over jackets, purple with gold letters, and gold with purple letters on them.

INTERCITY BASKETBALL

The Nevada City Yellowjackets will have a rest over the week end as they have drawn a bye. The coming event that is anticipated by all students, Grass Valley as well as Nevada City, is the second encounter between the two towns. Grass Valley won their first game by only a close margin, and as Coach Martin's boys are steadily improving, it will be an exceptionally good game.

JUNIOR PROGRAM

The junior class held a meeting Tuesday afternoon to decide what kind of a program they would put on for the assembly. It is the custom for each class to give one assembly a year. The date set for the junior class is in the near future. They plan to give a play and several other numbers.

SCHOOL PINS

In the near future, school pins will be on sale for members of all classes of the high school. They are of gold, and are on NCHS with a little chain connecting the year the student graduates.

BIBLE IS STILL BEST SELLER

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16. — The Holy Bible, best seller of all times and ages, a book that has sold millions of copies in every land on the globe, went on display in the library of the Los Angeles campus of the University of California today.

The display was arranged in honor of Prof. Edgar J. Goodspeed, noted biblical scholar from the University of Chicago, who will lecture on the New Testament at U.C.L.A. during the spring semester.

Dr. Goodspeed, who is building a home near the campus loaned the library a first edition of the King James Bible, printed in 1610. Noted as a translator and a modernizer of the Bible, Dr. Goodspeed also loaned several of his own books.

In addition, there is a portfolio of pages from sixty of the world's most famous Bibles. Eight centuries of manuscripts and printing are on display, according to Lawrence Clark Powell, in charge of the exhibit.

JUSTICE PECORA URGES MUTUAL CONCESSIONS

Addressing the annual dinner of the Advertising Club of Baltimore on February 4th, Supreme Court Justice Ferdinand Pecora of New York asserted that "in these times, with advocates of other political systems about us, seeking by devious and subtle methods to subvert our democracy, too much stress cannot be laid upon our duty to take all effective means to preserve its ideals."

Justice Pecora, who is president of the National Lawyer's Guild, spoke earlier on that date at a reception given for him by the Baltimore branch of the Guild in the court house. He insisted that foremost among the American institutions are the rights of freedom of speech and of the press, freedom of conscience, the right to worship God according to one's own heart, and equaity before the law. In drawing a comparison between those of world nations that have seemingly been made the proving grounds of Fascism and Nazism versus democratic government, the eminent Jurist said, "In a sound democracy we must accomodate our needs and demands to the needs and demands of others. There should always be a measure of mutual concession in the adjustment of all human relationships. A democracy worthy of the name must have patience, forbearance and self restraint from all its citizens."

NEW CLIPPER TO CARRY MAIL SOON

In answer to recent inquiries by local residents wishing to send air mail letters on the new Pan American Airways clipper in its first flight it is that the plane will make a trip to Hong Kong and back as a test flight before it accepts mail. This trip will take about two weeks. There is still time to send covers on the first flight from the San Francisco post office. Such mail should be addressed to yourself at general delivery to points on the route, such as Honolulu, Guam or Manila. For their return it is necessary to submit self-addressed stamped envelopes to each postmaster concerned for the return of covers with the request they be forwarded by the first eastbound flight of the new clipper. Midway and Wake Islands do not have post offices.

Donald Bosworth, who has been working with his father at Redding, returned to Nevada City Monday and celebrated his 18th birthday on St. Valentines day, Tuesday, February 14. He will remain here a couple of weeks visiting with his mother.

About 40 young men of the community, desiring some recreation and clean pastimes, have signed up for the re-created Antlers Lodge, which, the Antler committee of the Elks hopes to be started next week.

LOW PRICED JIGS FIND MARKET HERE

The small low priced jigs, put out by the Complete Mine Service Bureau, are proving up well on local properties. Robert McAfee made a recent demonstration on a local property and recoveries in black sand and concentrates were satisfactory. There should be a bright future for these little gold recovery plants among snipers. and already two men who have found quite a little saving in concentrates have purchased them, while three others are making preparations for the machines. Snipers are bringing in the black sand and concentrates in fairly large quantities from steady yields. It is found where snipers recovered gold in a very inefficient manner with their sluice boxes that the new method is proving encouraging. Cole Nauman and Hal D. Draper are demonstrating these little instruments which sell for a very low sum and are capable of handling from three to five and a half tons of ore in eight hours.
